

Student Features

Everything a student can do on Veloce, end to end.

Account & access

- Sign up and log in with email + password
 - Email verification required before first login
 - Forgot-password / reset-password flow
- Every account is scoped to one university — students only ever see that university's catalog, never another campus's
- Light/dark theme toggle, and a choice between a custom uploaded photo or a generic avatar icon

Browsing & buying notes

- Browse the catalog by university → department → course → block
- Each block can have several scribes' competing versions
 - Compare each version by its scribe's rating and trust level before buying, instead of being auto-assigned one
- Every block shows its topic outline up front (at least 3 topics per block) before you buy
- Two prices: a standard price, and a discounted price on notes that fulfill a request you voted for
- Purchases are permanent and tied to your account — no expiry, no subscription

Reading a purchased note

- Notes are read in-browser, page by page — never downloaded as a raw file
- Every page you view is watermarked live with your name, email, and the date, tiled across the page
 - The same is true if an admin or the note's own scribe previews it — everyone who can view a page gets their own watermark baked in
- A gentle reminder appears on your purchases list if you bought a note but haven't started reading it yet

Ratings & requests

- Rate and review any note you've purchased (1-5 stars + an optional comment) — one review per purchase
- Request a block that doesn't exist yet
 - Similar requests for the same course auto-group into one card
 - Vote on existing requests instead of creating a duplicate — the vote count is the visible demand signal
- Get notified the moment a request you voted for is fulfilled, including your discount

Following scribes

- Follow a scribe without needing to have bought from them yet
- Get notified automatically whenever a scribe you follow publishes a new note
- View any scribe's public profile: rating, buyer count, follower count, and trust-level badge

Money & refunds

- Request a refund on a recent purchase within the refund window
- If a refund is approved, you're given spendable credit rather than a reversed card charge
 - Credit is applied automatically toward your next purchase(s)

Becoming a scribe

- Apply to become a scribe directly from your dashboard
- If a scribe application or note is rejected, appeal the decision for a human admin to reconsider

Staying in the loop

- An in-app message center covers refunds, request fulfillments, new notes from followed scribes, and more
- A feedback form to send suggestions or issues straight to the platform team
